

LEWIS ATTACKS SENATE CRITICS OF PRESIDENT

Replies to Recent Addresses of Senators Lodge and Knox

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Republican critics of President Wilson and his peace terms were attacked in the senate today by Senator Lewis of Illinois, the Democratic whip. Replying to recent addresses of Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Knox of Pennsylvania, Senator Lewis charged that "certain leaders on the Republican side" had conspired for political purposes to discredit the president in the eyes of the European negotiators and to defeat his plans. The Illinois senator was unable to conclude his speech today but will finish tomorrow after which Senator Borah of Idaho, Republican, an opponent of a league of nations, plans to reply. Senator Cummings of Iowa, Republican also expects to discuss peace and related questions tomorrow.

Senator Lewis said he did not object to Senators Lodge and Knox "qualifying for the support of Colonel Roosevelt and his following for the nomination of president," but that he did object to "the country being deceived as to the design and the president of the United States dishonored by false political pretenses to accomplish the purpose."

Declaring that the president had failed to utter one word of satisfaction at the safe arrival of the president overseas or of the great honors being shown him by European rulers and peoples, Senator Lewis said it was not too much to believe that they would not have been displeased to find the president's name in the casualty lists.

Senator Lewis read from speeches and statements by Senators Lodge and Knox in an effort to show that their present attitude is inconsistent with that which they assumed in regard to President McKinley's action relative to a peace protocol with Spain in 1898 and President Roosevelt's course as to the peace arrangement growing out of the uprising in China in 1901.

Compares Policies.

The policy pursued by President Wilson he said is identical with that of Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt.

While Senator Lewis was discussing the proposal to postpone consideration of the plan for a league of nations, Senator Borah of Idaho called attention to a statement appearing in the newspapers quoting "one of the leading statesmen of Japan," as saying Japan would not enter a league of nations that did not put citizens of the various countries on the same basis.

Senator Lewis said he believed the matter could be adjusted between Japan and the nations affected.

Senator Borah said the United States could hardly agree to the proposal made by the Japanese statesman while Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, chairman of the foreign relations committee said this was a domestic question and not within the authority of the proposed league of nations.

Senator Sherman of Illinois asked whether senators from the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific coast states would consent to a treaty admitting Japanese as citizens of America on equal terms with immigrants from other nations.

MICHIGAN RATIFIES DRY AMENDMENT

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 2.—The Michigan legislature today ratified the amendment to the United States constitution providing for a dry nation. Both houses adopted the resolution without dissent and the only opposition came in the house where three votes were cast against the proposal.

In the upper house Senator Wood of Detroit offered an amendment to the resolution under which action would be suspended by the legislature until after the April elections when the ratification amendment would be submitted to the people.

Senator Woods was the only one to vote.

Michigan is the sixteenth state to ratify the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution. Twenty more states must take like action to adopt the amendment by congress.

Those states which have ratified since Virginia first acted on January 13, 1918, are: Virginia, Kentucky, Mississippi, South Carolina, North Dakota, Maryland, Montana, Arizona, Delaware, Texas, South Dakota, Massachusetts, Georgia, Louisiana, Florida, Michigan.

20 BELOW ZERO

WINONA, Minn., Jan. 2.—When southern Minnesota awoke this morning, it was greeted with 20 degrees below zero weather. Indications are that the Mississippi will freeze over at this point before night.

Mann Criticizes War Department For Long Delays

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Republican Leader Mann, in the house today, criticized the war department for delay in paying soldiers and in dispensing allowances to dependents. Without naming any one, Mr. Mann said much of the trouble was due to the ignorance of department officials and employees and that "Secretary Baker ought to wring the neck of some until they find out how to work."

The war risk insurance bureau also was attacked by Representative Madden of Illinois, Republican leader, who declared the bureau "is a stench for every man who has had anything to do with it."

Army and navy officers detailed for service in Washington bureaus were charged with inefficiency and incompetency by Representative Madden.

"Five government owned automobiles, with five soldier drivers," he said, "were waiting at ten o'clock this morning before one apartment house in this city to take officers to their important duties at the departments, but their duty was not important enough to get them out of the nest until after 10 A. M."

AN INTERNATIONAL TRIBUNAL NOT FAVORED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Proposals said to under consideration by the British war cabinet, looking towards establishment of an international tribunal to adjust labor conditions possibly as an adjunct to a league of nations, do not meet with favor at the American Federation of Labor headquarters. Indications have been that several such proposals would be presented to the peace conference and that some of them would contemplate international standardization of wages and restrictions, making impossible the "sweetening" of labor anywhere.

"No one will object to dealing a death blow to 'sweating,'" Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor said today, "but I question if American labor will turn its affairs over to an international commission."

Under such a system, iron workers in America could not improve conditions if their present standards are in excess of the Belgium Iron Workers, for instance.

"The best way to internationalize standards of working people is to first establish American standards," Morrison said. "The internationalization means that the American worker must surrender gains made or the American worker must postpone further gains until workers in continental Europe reach his present standards."

GERMAN APPEALS BEING CONSIDERED

LONDON, Jan. 2.—(British Wireless Service.)—German appeals against suspension by the allies of intercourse between the part of German territory occupied by the allied armies and the rest of Germany have been taken into consideration at the headquarters of Marshal Foch at Luxembourg.

A German delegation has been received at the marshal's headquarters and has been informed that as far as military exigencies permit the appeals have been granted.

According to an arrangement reached with the German government to furnish to the occupied zone during the armistice as much fuel as was sent there in the third quarter of 1918 and also such machinery and spare parts as may be required by industries in the occupied region. In return the allies will appoint a commissioner to arrange for certain quantities of raw materials to be sent across the Rhine into Germany. This will permit unemployment which otherwise might have resulted.

HENRY FORD STILL SEEKING A RECOUNT

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 2.—An order to show cause why they should not be restrained from destroying the ballots cast in the United States senatorial election in Michigan, has been issued to every city, village or township clerk in the eastern district of Michigan, it became known here today. A copy of the order issued by Judge J. W. Warrington of the U. S. Court of Appeals at Cincinnati was received here today.

The action on behalf of Henry Ford, who on the face of the official record was defeated for the senatorship by Lieutenant Commander Truman H. Newberry is similar to that taken in the western district of the state a few days ago. At that time it was announced a recount would be sought by Mr. Ford.

AUSTRIANS JOIN JUGO-SLAVS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—It was announced today at the state department that information has been received showing that a large number of Austrian soldiers had donned Jugo-Slav uniforms and displayed Jugo-Slav flags the day after the armistice was signed. To these suddenly reformed Austrians is credited much of the trouble of the Jugo-Slavs in the organization of their country.

MANY TROOPS REMOVED FROM STRANDED SHIP

Only Wounded Men Remain On Ill-Fated Northern Pacific

BULLETIN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The Transport Northern Pacific, stranded on a sand bar near Fire Island light, is resting easily tonight and is in no danger, according to a wireless message received tonight by The Associated Press from Captain Connelly, commanding. Another attempt to cut the vessel will be made at high water tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—When darkness halted until tomorrow morning the removal of home bound soldiers from the American Transport Northern Pacific, stranded off Fire Island, naval officials at Hoboken estimated that between six hundred and seven hundred men, many of them wounded had been transferred to warships or taken ashore in life boats or the breeches buoy.

Remain aboard the Northern Pacific are most of the sick and wounded. Naval officers deemed it too hazardous to attempt to remove the "stretcher cases."

Use All Kinds of Boats.

A message received today by Vice-Admiral Gleaves at Hoboken stated that the Northern Pacific had landed passengers of all classes to land passengers. If the sea calms down, which the message predicted would happen tomorrow, life savers stopped work at 5:30 p. m., after many barrels of oil poured on the waters failed to calm the waves.

At day break it is planned to renew the work of rescue in earnest. Life saving crews from Sandy Hook and Rockaway are planning to leave at midnight in their power boats to be on hand at dawn.

Of the aid of the squadron of cruisers, destroyers and naval tugs now guarding the stranded vessel it is planned to transfer the wounded to the hospital ship Solace and take them direct to Hoboken. Continuous rain, fog and heavy pounding by the waves have failed to lower the spirits of those aboard the transport, which is now listing hard to port. The ship's band played lively airs while the work of rescue was being carried on and tonight men were clamoring for another entertainment such as was staged last night aboard ship, when a private was widely applauded as he led a quartette in singing, "Rocked in The Cradle of The Deep."

Debarcation Started at Noon

Debarcation was begun shortly after noon when an attempt earlier in the day to drag the Northern Pacific from her bed of sand had failed. During the debarcation process, a launch from the Cruiser Columbia was dashed to pieces against the stern of the transport and the surf boat used to transfer men from the steamer to the shore was twice capsized. Soldiers, sailors and coast guards were hurled into the sea, but all were saved.

When the order came for the first men to go over the side a cheer broke out over the whole ship.

The men at first received orders to prepare to take to the boats with their packs but this was countermanded and they were told to leave everything but the clothes they wore. As one by one they climbed over the rail and descended a rope to the boats manned by coast guards, the words of their comrades lined the ranks cheering.

As soon as they were landed the troops were taken to Bay shore where the naval air station has been turned into a huge emergency hospital.

The Northern Pacific was tonight deeply imbedded in the sand fore and aft, while the waves were beating against her side and sweeping under her keel. Her waterline is now many feet above the surf.

At present there is no fear that her "back will be broken" as one naval officer expressed it.

Springfield Girl Aboard.

Fire Island, Jan. 2.—A power boat from the Cruiser Columbia, engaged in bringing ashore troops from the Transport Northern Pacific capsized this evening when her engine went dead as she approached the beach throwing all hands, nine men, into the sea. All were rescued by life boats which dashed into the breakers and dragged the men ashore.

The men being landed here are being taken across Fire Island and across Great South Bay to Bay Shore, there to be organized at the aviation camp before going to Long Island.

Red Cross workers received the men as they were landed, assembling them in the welcome heat of a roaring beach fire and supplying them with coffee and sandwiches before they were

American and British Views of Peace the Same

PARIS, Jan. 2.—The view is now held in American official quarters that the attitude of the British leaders show much coordination with the American viewpoint as will facilitate a mutual agreement before the peace congress. After the close of the recent conferences and the public demonstrations attending President Wilson's visit to London, one of the foremost British statesmen, summed up the situation by saying:

"I would not think of having the peace congress close until it had established a league of nations as outlined by President Wilson as the British nation has clearly shown that it expects to be done."

Mr. Balfour, the British foreign secretary and Premier Lloyd George will be in Paris on the return of President Wilson from Italy next week and then the real work of inter-allied conferences will begin. This will not be a formal meeting around the table at the outset, as comparatively few delegates will be in Paris at that time. But the informal conferences will be progressively important from then on as the informal conferences will merge into the formal inter-allied conference and that will gradually merge into the peace congress without any exact delimitation of dates.

TOBACCO HAS MORE VALUE THAN MONEY

WITH AMERICAN FORCES ON DWINA, Dec. 12.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.

A tobacco famine has become so pronounced in the territory along the Dwina and Vaga rivers, where Russo-Alleed troops are operating in northern Russia that the peasants are willing to exchange almost anything they have for small quantities of tobacco or cigarettes.

The correspondent went ashore from a flat-bottomed paddle-wheeled steamer with a packet of 10 very bad cigarettes and secured in exchange twelve eggs, a half bushel of potatoes and ten pounds of cheese.

The peasants have been smoking tea leaves, tree leaves and dried moss. Each boat that comes up the river and stops at a village is besieged by peasants asking for cigarettes or "see minosnoka tabak" meaning a "nice tobacco."

Money is virtually worthless in transactions with the peasants, ten cigarettes going much further than a hundred rubles in the purchase of produce.

WARMER WEATHER COMING SATURDAY

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Real winter weather introduced in many sections of the west, southwest, northwest and middle west New Year's day with the first cold wave of the season, appears unbroken in the north, according to the weather bureau, the only encouragement in sight is "slowly rising temperatures" Saturday.

With below zero weather in many regions, lower temperatures are expected before tomorrow with 20 or more below zero the possibility in the northwest and five below in the minimum in Chicago and vicinity.

Citrus fruits have been destroyed in California. Thirty below is reported at some Montana points and 28 below at Williston, N. D.

An unofficial temperature of twelve below at Clinton, Iowa, is given and the zero point was reached in Chicago tonight. Denver reported slightly milder temperatures in the plains region. Stock raisers in Texas feared that heavy losses among cattle in the ranges would result unless the weather moderated sufficiently in the next few days to melt the 17-inch blanket of snow which is preventing the herds from grazing.

California shivers today in the coldest weather in twelve months. Heavy frosts mantled the ground in virtually every section of the state.

LETTERS FROM ROME GREATLY NEEDED

Paris, Wednesday, Jan. 1.—Letters from home were never more needed by American soldiers and sailors than at present, according to a statement issued today by the headquarters of the Y. M. C. A. here. It is urged that relatives of men in the service continue writing to them until their return has been definitely arranged for.

Paris, Wednesday, Jan. 1.—The soldiers said that the only real hardship they underwent on board was the shortage of water. There had been no drinking water at their meals since Wednesday morning, they said and they had to assuage their thirst with coffee and cocoa.

The bringing of the well troops ashore was a scene of dramatic interest. Four lifeboats piled back and forth between the transport and the beach. These carried life and all hands on shore hauled them in.

In the first boat to land were seventeen nurses—two from Brest and fifteen from Quentown. Among the latter was Gertrude Craig of Springfield, Ill., acting chief.

Permanent Army Camps Favored By Sec. Baker

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Secretary Baker said today he intended to seek the views of congress on the question of purchasing the land on which army cantonments are located. He said the war department thought some of these camps should be made permanent, and that it would cost about $12,000,000 to acquire the sites already approved for this purpose. The matter will be brought up by the secretary when he appears tomorrow before the house military committee. Secretary Baker would not disclose what training camps had been recommended by the general staff for permanent retention. He said specifically, however, that the disposition of flying fields was not now involved.

The secretary indicated that this program had no relation to recommendations that may be made at some future time with respect to the permanent military policy. He said the camps could be used for summer mobilizations or for divisional or even larger maneuvers, as existing permanent facilities for the army do not provide any post where quarters or grounds are extensive enough for these purposes.

Within the next few days, Mr. Baker said the army war college will complete the army reorganization bill upon which it has been working and he will then seek legislation extending the military committee to take up the proposals.

"The whole question of the future of the army air service which it is to continue as a separate branch or be again amalgamated with the signal corps will be taken up and it is anticipated that while the aerial forces will not be again placed under any other arm of the service radical changes in the existing emergency organization will be proposed."

POLISH PROVINCE TREMBLING IN BALANCE

WARSAW, Tuesday, Dec. 31.—(By the Associated Press.)

The fate of the province of Vilna, in Lithuania, is trembling in the balance. Bolshevik agents are spreading their propaganda through the province, the northeastern part of which is under soviet rule. Bands of robbers and tramps, and regular guards of the Bolsheviks, are coming into Vilna. The Germans apparently are making no effort to restore order in the city, although they have 5,000 troops there.

A Polish committee called upon Colonel Werner in command of the German troops and requested arms for Poles and others that they might defend the city against the Bolsheviks. Colonel Werner replied:

"Berlin has given us orders to the contrary. We won't be a monkey to draw the chestnuts out of the fire for the English. I am sorry for your wives, daughters and children but this country must be destroyed."

The Poles have organized the young men for the defense of the city. The correspondent has seen a copy of the letters which have passed between the Polish committee and the Germans regarding the defense of Vilna. The Germans declare categorically that they intend to turn over the city to the soviets and also refuse to permit the Poles to receive arms.

FORMER ILLINOIS FUEL ADMINISTRATOR DEAD

STREATOR, Ill., Jan. 2.—John E. Williams, former federal fuel administrator died at his home here today, after six months illness. He was 65 years of age and leaves a widow.

Decidedly born in Wales, but came to the United States as a boy and went to work in the Illinois coal fields. This pursuit he followed until he was 30 years old. He was widely known as an arbitrator and mediator in labor disputes. He was mediator of the garment makers organization in New York.

Williams' intimate knowledge of the coal business gave him a peculiar fitness for administering the fuel situation in Illinois last winter, and he was credited with a brilliant success. He resigned several months ago as a result of his illness.

FLY ALLIED FLAGS

Washington, Jan. 2.—Former Austro-Hungarian merchant ships are now navigating out of Toulon, France under the interallied blue and white flag, diplomatic advice from France received here today.

Ships of the former Austro-Hungarian navy have been requisitioned and also will fly the inter-allied flag.

In addition to the emergency shipment of more than 1,000 tons of foodstuffs sent to Vienna by Switzerland a few days ago, Italy has agreed to forward immediately 4,000 tons to German Austria.

EXPLOSIONS COSTLY TO U. S.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Appropriations necessary to pay for private property destroyed in New Jersey by the explosions last October at the Gillespie shell loading plant will approximate $3,658,000, the war department today reported to congress.

The department estimated that ten thousand claims will be filed.

PIEZ EXPLAINS DELAYS IN U. S. SHIPBUILDING

Only Four Fabricated Vessels Have Been Delivered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Only four ships have been delivered by the three great government fabricated shipbuilding plants, Charles Piez, director general of the emergency fleet corporation said today in testifying before the senate commerce committee. Difficulties in constructing the yards and in obtaining material were largely responsible for the delays, the witness said.

Three of the ships have come from the Hog Island yard, Mr. Piez testified and the fourth from the submarine boat corporation plant at Port Newark, N. J., which should have delivered 124 vessels by last December 7. The Merchants Shipbuilding corporation at Bristol, Pa., has not yet delivered a ship. He said, although under its contract 24 should have been completed by Dec. 7. The Hog Island yard delivered its third ship today and has launched twelve others, the committee was told.

Before resuming its inquiry today the committee adopted a resolution by Senator Nelson of Minnesota, extending its investigation to include a survey of the progress of all government merchant shipbuilding.

Under the resolution the shipping board and the emergency fleet corporation would be required to furnish a statement showing the number of shipyards where ships are being or to be built or contracted for together with the capacity of the yards and the amounts contributed by the government for their construction if any, and the number of ships each has completed or launched. The committee also asked for the expenditures made from all money appropriated by congress for ships and whether any of the vessels completed for the fleet corporation have been used to carry men or munitions to or from Europe.

Takes up Hog Island Yards

Questioned today about the Hog Island yards, Mr. Piez told the committee that because of a change in the management of the American International Shipbuilding corporation, contractors on the Hog Island project, the fleet corporation had decided that it would be unwise for the government to take over management of the yard at this time.

In response to questions Mr. Piez said it cost the government thirty eight thousand dollars to stage a celebration at the Hog Island ship yard near Philadelphia for the launching of the yard's first ship last summer, when the President and Mrs. Wilson were guests of honor.

The Hog Island yard, the witness declared, has been the scene for representatives of all nations visiting the United States and generally they have expressed admiration for it. He said the plant eventually would become a big producer.

Cost Increases Enormous.

War conditions have brought about an enormous increase in the cost of building warships, Rear-Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of construction and repair told the house naval committee today in discussing the 1919 naval appropriation bill.

Admiral Taylor said he did not think it was likely that the end of hostilities would result in any speedy reduction in costs. After the Civil War, he said, there was an appreciable lowering of costs of labor and materials within three years.

"The Battleship Mississippi (a new ship delivered last year) was built on contract for $7,115,000," the admiral said, "but the company which built it cost a large sum of money and when bids on the Battleship Alabama and Tennessee were asked for, no contractor submitted a bid under the estimated cost of $7,800,000. The government then decided to build them in its own navy yards and the cost will amount to probably $11,250,000 each, an increase of 43 per cent over the estimated cost. The same increase will apply probably to the 1916 ships authorized in the 1916 three year program."

Explains Increases.

Admiral Taylor said the cost of constructing merchant ships has increased from $75 to $200 a ton, while the cost of battleships has increased less than fifty per cent.

"While there has been an increase of $150,000,000 over the estimated cost of 1914 three year program, what will the increase be in the three year program just recommended by Secretary Daniels?" asked Representative Butler of Pennsylvania.

"The cost is estimated at $600,000,000, but the estimates for the individual ships are not much larger than those made in the 1916 program. Surely they cannot be made any cheaper than those being constructed now."

Admiral Taylor replied that there may be large reductions in the cost of construction before the program is started. The 1916 program will not be completed until 1923, he said, and the new program cannot be put into full swing before the present one is out of the way.

Secretary Daniels who presided over the committee, said electrically driven machinery will give future American battleships and battle cruisers a superiority over the big fighting craft of the other navies of the world.

President And Party Speeding Toward Rome

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Jan. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)

The Franco-Italian frontier was crossed at Modane at 10:30 o'clock this morning by President Wilson's special train. The presidential party was met at the frontier by American Ambassador Page, Count Macchi de Cellere, Italian ambassador to the United States and the Prince of Udine, who will accompany the party to Rome.

The presidential party caught its first glimpse of the snow capped peaks of the western Alps at breakfast time while the train was crawling slowly thru the mountain passes. President Wilson rested today from the continuous round of activities of his English visit and is looking forward with great pleasure to his visit to Rome.

Received in Turin

Turin, Jan. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Wilson's special train arrived here this afternoon. The president was met at the station by the prefect of the province, the mayor, the general commanding the troops here and other authorities.

Altho the reception to the American chief executive was unofficial, the station was decorated with the Italian national colors while everywhere in the city the stars and stripes were flown beside the Italian flag.

The president's train left a short time later amid the enthusiastic cheers of a crowd which had gathered to greet the nation's guest.

INSECTS RESPONSIBLE FOR 1,000,000 DEATHS

LONDON, Jan. 2.—British Wireless Service.—Of the insects responsible for the death or disablement of hundreds of thousands in the war zone the louse is declared authoritatively to have been one of the most deadly and to have accounted for at least a million persons.

That, however, is only a rough estimate and the probability that the toll was infinitely higher for in Serbia alone, known, a louse-borne disease, infected nearly one million persons and killed five hundred a day in the little city of Jassy, while two hundred of the 1,200 medical officers in the country died from the disease. This disease also spread over Russia, Germany and the Balkans generally.

Trench fever has also been charged to the louse.

These figures are vouched for in a publication prepared by Lieutenant Lloyd who was chief entomologist in Northern Rhodesia.

Lieutenant Lloyd in discussing the typhus outbreak at the notorious Wittenberg camp in Germany told the committee that the typhus was spread by lice and that the epidemic could have been cut short and stamped out a week after its commencement by the disinfection of all prisoners.

FORMER EMPEROR REPORTED VERY ILL

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 2.—William Hohenzollern, the former emperor of Germany, is very ill, according to advices from Amberg. He cannot leave his room, it is said, and is suffering from a bad cold. It is stated that he has a high fever. An eminent specialist from Utrecht is in constant attendance.

Only the former empress, the emperess, and two attendants are permitted to enter his room, it is reported.

FIND GERMAN PLANES BADLY DAMAGED

LONDON, Jan. 2.—(British Wireless Service.)—Many German airplanes were damaged by the Germans when they evacuated Cologne, according to British correspondents in the British area of occupation. Among the dismantled machines is the skeleton of a huge Gotha. It was built to carry fourteen men and on its broad ladders lead up to the upper plane where the machine gunners were posted.

Another machine is an armored plane for use in attacking trenches with machine guns. The wings are of corrugated steel and steel plates a quarter of an inch thick protect all vital points as well as seats for two men. Two machine guns point thru the bottom of the fuselage.

200 PER CENT DIVIDEND

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 2.—A 200 per cent dividend was declared by the directors of the Ford Motor Co., at their annual meeting Dec. 31 it was announced here this afternoon. The dividend which represents a disbursement of $4,000,000 among seven stockholders, is payable 100 per cent January 1 and 100 per cent February 1.

swing before the present one is out of the way.

Secretary Daniels who presided over the committee, said electrically driven machinery will give future American battleships and battle cruisers a superiority over the big fighting craft of the other navies of the world.

BERGER GIVEN ALL DAY GRILLING BY WITNESS STAND

Socialist Leader Censured He Never Advised Violence

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—On cross-examination today Congressman-elect Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee at the trial of five Socialists charged with violation of the espionage law, was confronted with an article printed over his signature in the Socialist Democratic Herald of Milwaukee, July 31, 1909, in which he advised workmen to use rifles if necessary to obtain their rights.

On direct examination Berger had repeatedly declared that he was a collector for and constructive Socialist and that he never advised the use of violence.

Assistant District Attorney Fleming read the article from the Milwaukee paper which contained among other things the following:

"Every working man ought to have a good rifle with plenty of ammunition at home so that he is ready when the time comes to take up the battle for his rights. I deny that any change can ever be brought about by peaceable means. It cannot be done by the ballot alone. Working men must be prepared to back up their ballots with bullets."

Questioned in regard to the radical sentiments expressed by the witness as to the meaning that if a majority of ballots did not get the desired results that force might be necessary.

Opposed to Mexican War

After Berger had testified that he was opposed to this country's going to war with Mexico, a telegram was produced which Berger had sent to the editor of a New York paper in March, 1915, asserting that the United States send an army into Mexico to punish Villa.

Counsel for the government read to the jury an editorial written by Berger in the Milwaukee Leader in which the defendant declared that capitalism was only one cause of the war and that the principal cause was nationalism and class hatred.

Berger admitted that in 1916 he favored a general strike to prevent this country entering the war. He said he was opposed to the principles of the I. W. W. despite the fact that he contributed $10 to the defense fund of the leaders of the organization when they were on trial in Chicago for violation of the espionage law. He said the I. W. W. had stood the test as a class organization and was superior to the American Federation of Labor.

Votes for Anti-War Proclamation

Berger admitted that he was opposed to the war even after this country entered it. He admitted having voted for the anti-war proclamation of the Socialist party and of having used his paper to urge its adoption by the membership of the party at a referendum vote.

Assistant District Attorney Fleming read an editorial by Berger in the Milwaukee Leader in which he demanded that every member of the party stand squarely on the anti-war platform of the Socialists or get out of the party whether he be mayor or constable.

"Did you believe that American rights had been violated by the sinking of the Lusitania?" the witness was asked.

"No, I did not," replied Berger. "It was an English vessel and she was carrying war munitions. I think it was a beastly thing to do but not sufficient reason for this country to get into the war."

Berger's cross-examination had not been concluded when court adjourned.

HAVE NOT NAMED BRITISH DELEGATES

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Announcements regarding British delegates which have appeared in some newspapers as being of an official nature are unauthorized and inaccurate. The prime minister and imperial war cabinet, The Associated Press learns have not yet decided on the composition of the peace delegation. Until this is settled and the delegates have met no announcement as to the officials who will advise them can be made.

APPOINTED ON RULES COMMITTEE

Chicago, Jan. 2.—President Heydler of the National League today announced the appointment of William L. Vreek, vice president of the Chicago club, as a member of the rules committee of the league. The other members of the committee are Bernard Dreyfus, president of the Pittsburgh club and President Heydler.

GRAIN SHIPMENTS LARGE

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 2.—Sixty-three million bushels of wheat, three million bushels of oats, three million bushels of barley, and two million bushels of flax were shipped from Port William and Port Arthur in 435 Canadian and United States vessels during the 1918-19 season, according to a statement issued today by the board of grain commissioners of Canada.

Members of the Salvation Army in Russia not long since had the opportunity for doing some real military work, or at least were called upon to defend themselves in a military way. The members of the army on service in Russia were driven out by the red guard, the official Bolshevik armed force. If there was not enough already to condemn the Bolsheviks this act would furnish a correct character index, and give the proof that they constitute a menace to society and to peace.

The proposal to speedily return the railroads of the country to private management may lose some friends if the fact is recognized that thus far the roads show an operation loss of about $150,000,000. Should there be an early return of the properties the government would be compelled to make up this shortage by some form of taxation, just as it will be forced to do in paying to grain growers the difference in the guaranteed price of wheat and its real market value next summer.

INCREASE IN SHIPPING.

While some industries may lag in the reconstruction period there is evidently to be continued activity in ship building. The U. S. has outlined a heavy program of its own and it is understood that France is to place an order for $60,000 tons of shipping in American shipyards. With this tonnage completed France will have three times as much shipping as ever before. Some other nations also have extensive ship building programs and traffic on the ocean promises to be in coming years greater than ever before. Unless there comes some agreement as to wages and rates later on, there will certainly be some ocean haulage at low figures.

MOTORIZED FIRE APPARATUS.

Springfield papers are boasting because the past year has marked the passing of horse drawn fire apparatus in the capital city. Motor apparatus of an efficient type replaced it at an expense of $50,000. Nobody in Jacksonville takes much credit for having motorized the fire department of this city, but the fact remains that the apparatus was purchased at a fortunate time and at figures at least 50 per cent less than the same apparatus would have cost this year. It is fortunate, too, that this city has motor apparatus in these days when the number of employees in the department is so greatly reduced.

CARING FOR CHILDREN.

Miss Julia Lathrop in her annual report for the children's bureau recommends that thru education comes the best means of controlling the child labor situation. This statement is made, no doubt, because the labor law for the protection of children was found invalid by the supreme court. Miss Lathrop's figures go to show that the bureau's campaign whereby more than 6,000,000 children were weighed and graded, has resulted in saving the lives of thousands of infants.

Miss Lathrop, who is a specialist in her work and who is known to a number of local people, is not a visionary and is accomplishing things really worth while. Her recommendations are always based on study and experience.

HOME RULE FOR UTILITIES.

A continually increasing number of cities is added to the list of those who will join in the legislative fight for home rule for utilities. There seems to be an increasing feeling that the formation of the state utilities commission under legislative act was really a benefit to the corporation rather than to the people. At any rate, the movement for home control of utilities is gaining ground. The increased rates for gas and lighting service and for street railway fares has had something to do with this opposition to the state utility board, who the corporations have had an easy task in proving their increased costs of operation. The corporations can point to the case of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. in New York, which has just made an application for an 8 cent fare. Mr. Shonts, president of the company, in his application declares that bankruptcy is faced unless this increase is granted.

WILL BRING BETTER UNDERSTANDING OF PEOPLES.

More than the ordinary interest attached to the statement that The Associated Press has recently elected to membership a considerable number of papers in South America. This announcement is important not simply from a news standpoint or because the service of The Associated Press is to thus be extended, but because it does indicate a closer relationship between the peoples of North and South America and the certainty of a better understanding.

If the principal news happenings of North America appear in the papers of South America a general familiarity with conditions and purposes in the U. S. will eventually follow. The great drawback in the past to the U. S. and its relation with these countries on the south has been the fact that the people down there have not understood motives and purposes as expressed by citizens of the U. S.

A MATTER OF CONTRAST.

Mrs. Nina L. Duryea, president of the Duryea war relief in France, has returned to America to endeavor to further stimulate interest of the people here in and needs of impoverished French people. There are 72 branches of the Duryea organization in the U. S. and generous response has already been made. Some little damage has been done to the various movements for French relief by the news stories of the splendid hospitality accorded to President and Mrs. Wilson in French cities, with diamonds and other costly gifts for the president's wife.

But in fact, these two things have no relationship and conditions do not stand out more boldly in opposition than some in our own country. In New York, for instance, while there is abject poverty in some streets and sections, only a few blocks away are the evidences of great wealth and luxury, and some men and women are wasting and spending in fashionable living enough money in one day to keep a dozen families in comfortable surroundings for a month.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

It is true there is not much advantage in talking about what might be done with the billions of dollars which the war cost, but some figures and statements made by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat in this connection have interest. It was Lloyd George who recently estimated the allied war expenditures at $120,000,000,000. In the past year the U. S. expended from the treasury more than $18,000,000,000, and over two thirds of this was on the army and navy. The expenditure in a military and naval way by the U. S. during the year cost thirty times as much as the construction of the Panama canal.

The money which was spent by this country in the war in one year was sufficient to have provided irrigation for every acre of arid land in this country. It would have paid the cost of building permanent highways thru every state and county in the union. All trunk lines of railroads could have been doubled tracked and entirely adequate stock tracks and terminal facilities provided. Still other vast improvements could have been made.

Yet we would never have entertained the thought of raising the vast sums of money for these constructive lines of activity. But when liberty was at stake—when humanity needed the sacrifice—this great golden stream of wealth was turned into preparation for works of destruction.

MEN OF CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION KIND.

The Carrollton Gazette suggests that only men of character and recognized legal ability and experience should be sent as delegates to the constitutional convention to be held in this state sometime this year. The business to come before that convention is one of such moment that it will not be generally conceded that men of mediocre ability will not have much standing in such a gathering. Questions related to the welfare of the state for many years to come will be under consideration. A large portion of the matter to be considered will require legal knowledge and men of trained experience and mature judgment should constitute that convention.

Aside from the importance of the subjects to be discussed, the convention action must be handled with tact for all the work will come to naught unless it gains approval at the polls. Certainly the convention will avoid the mistake of New York and submit the various questions separately instead of embodying them in a proposed new constitution for the state. After years of preparatory work and months of actual sessions of the convention in New York state the work came to naught because all questions were submitted in the one form and the people defeated the proposal to change the constitution.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

The New Year.

We start the New Year right; the kings, have ceased to fight; and some are banned and some are cained, they've said a last "Good night!" We've seen what war can do; it's worse than the fur and rows that make the nations quaver and had for people, too. All fights are bad and vile; no quarrel's worth your while; so if some chap demands a scrap, just answer with a smile. You're bad as Kaiser Bill, if you display the will to break the peace and give release to wrath, already still. Why throw sarcastic flings at captains and at kings, if you're the chap who hunts a scrap, and stirs up grief, by flings? We start the New Year right; there is no scrap in sight; no gent is near who'd twist my ear, or pull my nose or bite. Let's keep the record thus; let's dodge the foolish wood, nor paw around or cuss. Let's an example set to kings who fume and fret; with kindly hearts let's do our parts—peace is the one best bet.

HOME FROM SOUTHERN CAMP
Lieut. William A. Fay returned to Jacksonville Thursday from Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., where he recently received his honorable discharge from the army service. Lieut. Fay is on the reserve list. He went to the southern camp some months ago after voluntary enlistment in the ordnance department, and was later transferred to a special training school at the same camp. His course was not finished when the armistice was signed and the work was continued until a recent date, when the men attending the school who passed the examinations were awarded commissions as second lieutenants.

A PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENT

In a recent company at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reinhart, 1059 North Fayette street, a mock wedding was a special feature of entertainment. However, a touch of realism was given to this ceremony because the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Vasconcellos, who were united in marriage just thirty three years ago. For the last ceremony "Rev. Ivan Smith of 1050 North Fayette street was the clergyman. Following the wedding ceremony excellent refreshments were served and the occasion was one which every present thoroughly enjoyed.

COW TESTING RECORDS COMPLETED

Report for December Gives Comparative Results With Forty-nine Cows—Best Record for Cow Owned at White Hall.

The December report of the Jacksonville-Springfield Cow Testing association has just been made public by Earl R. Jackson, official tester. The data show that there were 49 cows in the association which produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat during the month and that of that number 15 produced more than 50 pounds. The honor of having the high cow this month belongs to M. S. McCollister of White Hall. This animal produced 1289.5 pounds of milk, 5.6 per cent fat and 70.93 pounds of butterfat. The high herd average was made by nine animals composing the herd of James MacMurdo of Auburn. The herd average was 1206.9 pounds of milk, 3.6 per cent fat and 43.65 pounds of butterfat. Mr. MacMurdo's herd has made a net return of $22.95 per head, this average having been obtained after he had sold more than half of his cows which were only returning a small profit.

The December 1918 report shows the record of 49 cows in the association which produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat during the month of December:

DEATHS

Pitner.

Thomas H. Pitner passed away at the family home on South East street at midnight Wednesday as the result of pneumonia. The deceased was the son of A. W. Pitner and was born in this county Sept. 5, 1891. The young man's mother preceded him in death seven years ago and during a long period of illness he has received the loving care of his father. He is survived by his father and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Merle McFarland, Newark, N. J.; Mrs. Frank Green of this county; Carl Pitner of Vancouver, B. C.; and Lloyd Pitner of Racine, Wis. Funeral services will be private at the home, 464 South East street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

Waller.

The death of Mrs. Mary Waller occurred at Passavant hospital at 3:10 o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. Waller while visiting at the home of her brother in Carrollton recently sustained a fall while walking on the street and some internal injuries resulted. She was brought to Passavant hospital Tuesday of this week and every effort was made to bring about relief. However, complications came and death resulted from congestion of the lungs.

Mrs. Waller's maiden name was Mary Hardcastle and she was the daughter of John and Margaret Hardcastle, well known residents of Greene county. She was born on a farm east of Carrollton Nov. 22, 1845, and grew to young womanhood in that neighborhood. It was there April 20, 1871, that she became the wife of Capt. J. A. Waller, for many years a prominent citizen of Jacksonville, who died Nov. 3, 1913. The early married life of Capt. and Mrs. Waller was spent in the vicinity of Greenfield and about twenty three years ago they became residents of Jacksonville and the family home was established at 329 East Superior avenue.

The deceased was a member of Brooklyn Methodist church and had thru all the years of her residence here taken a prominent part in the activities of the church. She was interested in all the church work and was especially prominent in the Ladies' Aid society and the Woman's Foreign Missionary society. As Capt. Waller was a veteran of the war, his wife was also actively interested in the Woman's Relief Corps. In earlier years the deceased was also identified with the women's club life of the city. Mrs. Waller was devoted to her home and friends. A woman of somewhat retiring spirit, she was deeply interested in charitable work and in the various movements which made for the betterment of her home community. Many will miss her now who have known the strength of her character and the helpfulness of her friendship.

The deceased is survived by one son, John Hardcastle Waller of Greenfield and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Grassly of this city. There are two grandchildren who have spent much of the time in their grandmother's home. They are Miss Margaret Waller, now in training at Passavant hospital, and Miss Mildred Waller, a student at Brown's Business college. James and Robert Waller, two other grandchildren, live at the home of their father in Greenfield. The funeral service will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence, 329 East Superior avenue, with services in charge of Rev. G. W. Randle, pastor of Brooklyn church. The remains will be taken on the early C. & A. train Saturday morning to Greenfield for interment.

At a recent meeting of the Morgan County Monument Association photographs of the working models of the granite figures of the monument were presented for the consideration of the association. At that time the association voted to approve the working models provided they were also approved by Mr. Lorado Taft and by the county commissioners. Mr. C. H. Rammelkamp, secretary of the monument association, recently received the approval of Mr. Taft in the following letter:

I have watched the development of Mr. Crunelle's two groups and consider them both unusually fine and in every way equal to the promise of the first sketch. You will make no mistake in accepting them. I congratulate you upon the promise of this beautiful monument.

WITH THE COLORS

From Pvt. J. T. Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ryan of Franklin are just in receipt of the following letters from their son, Private J. T. Ryan, who is with the 82nd Co., 6th Regt., U. S. Marines, now in Belgium:

Dear Mother:—As I have the chance I thought I would write you a few lines. How are you all? This leaves me fine and dandy. I sent Fannie a cablegram a few days ago and I suppose she will receive it in a few days. Our Chaplain made arrangements to have them sent.

Well, we went into position again on Oct. 31, and on the morning of Nov. 1st, we went over the top in the Argonne forest. We knocked back the best troops Germany had and kept driving them until the 11th when we heard that an armistice went into effect. And as the 2nd Division was one of the few divisions chosen to follow the Germans, we are now on our way to Germany to patrol the Rhine with the Marines leading the way and, of course, it is an honor to have the right to go and to be the first to reach there.

We reached this Belgian town last night and are billeted in houses taking a day's rest before taking up the march again. Of course peace is not signed yet but anyway it looks as if the war is about over, and we expect to get back to the States sometime, but have not idea when. So give all my regards and tell Mayne and Frank I will write them soon.

Your son,

John.

Luxembourg.

Nov. 24th, 1918.

Dear Sister:

Thought I would write and let you know that I am all O. K. How are you all? I received your letter about one month ago but did not have much chance to write you since but I know you are all glad that the war is about over, at least it looks as if it were now.

Well, we followed right on the Germans' heels thru Belgium and Luxembourg. In fact, the German boundary line is only a short distance away and we are now resting up some before taking up the march to the Rhine. Where if all goes well, we will likely do some guard and patrol duty. This is a pretty little country. It seems to be all hills and valleys but it is sure nice to look at. The people speak the German language, but every now and then you run across one who has lived in the States and can speak English.

I suppose you are having some cool weather now. Some over here for the last several days, but it is raining today. You remember hearing of H. Bartlett of Jacksonville in the 82nd Co. Well, I just don't know where he is now. He went over the top with me on Nov. 1 and I believe he was wounded again and sent to the hospital but am not sure.

Well, Mayne, I suppose I will have to close as it is about chow time and today being Sunday our chaplain had services here, so you see we are still Christians.

Tell all hello.

John.

From Fred Bray.

The following is a very interesting letter from Fred Bray to his mother.

Hospital Train No. 55, Near Swiss Border, France.
Dec. 4, 1918.

Dear Mother:—

It is about ten days since I wrote you and I hope you are not worrying about not hearing from me. I've done several things since my last letter and hardly know where to begin to tell you about them. We spent four days side-tracked near Chaumont and were there for Thanksgiving dinner. It rained all morning and on top of that we had to carry water for the kitchen tanks for two hours, but we did not mind it as much as usual because we were looking forward to roast goose, plum pudding, etc. Just as we were finishing our dinner we got word that we would leave for a load of Americans, direct from a prison camp. This necessitated another water detail but we needed the exercise and then we thought we were going to Switzerland. It turned out that we got only as far as Bellegarde (ain) where we were told we would have to wait for our passengers as the frontier was not yet opened, and the Swiss themselves would bring a load of American officers as far as that point. It was raining and we spent the whole afternoon sulking because we were within an hour's ride of the border and still could not cross it. We did not realize that we were in the midst of some exceptional scenery.

About midnight a train arrived from Geneva and you should have heard those fellows cheer when they saw an American train waiting in the station for them. We had expected to find men starved and almost naked, but on the contrary they were in excellent condition. Thru the American Red Cross they got clothing and plenty of food, and by making the best of it, and keeping in good physical condition, they came back looking fine. I had thirty six captains and lieutenants in my car and assigned each one a berth as soon as he came aboard, but it was two hours before the last one had shown me his collection of souvenirs, and told me all about it. They were all asking for news also, for in Villigen they had gotten only an alleged English sheet (printed in Berlin) and they say that the news was distorted a trifle. Of course each one wanted to know if his particular division had been sent across the Rhine or if it was going back to the States. We know, of course, what divisions comprise the Army of Occupation but beyond that it is all speculation as to who will be among the first ones back home.

We were under orders to take these men to Allerey but that place was so crowded that we stayed in Bellegarde all day so as not to reach our destination before they had had time to make room for our passengers. Saturday morning was clear and we were surprised upon getting up to find ourselves next door to a snow capped mountain.

The town itself is divided by a deep canyon and I was down at the Perte du Rhone where the Rhone river disappears under the rocks and is completely lost to sight for several hundred yards. Very few American soldiers have been here so far, and the people—from the mayor on down—have been particularly nice to us. If there is one man, woman or child in the city who has not been down to visit the train it must be because he is paralyzed. They have been tracked in acres of mud, but you can't blame them for being curious about these trains for they are pretty nice carriages and even New York or Chicago would probably be interested in them.

We left Bellegarde Saturday night at six and arrived at Allerey just after breakfast the next morning. There I ran on to Reaugh Jennings from Murrayville and he gave me the first news I had had about Earl Sooy. I had pictured Earl back in the States before this and it was surely a shock to hear the news which Jennings brought me. I hope that there is still a chance that he was captured. Jennings is looking fine and is completely well after a month in the hospital. He has hopes of getting home before many weeks.

We came right back to Bellegarde and have been waiting here three days now, but expect to get out tomorrow. The first day we got back several fellows climbed the mountain but I had a slight cold and was not in a mood that day for tramping thru the snow. Just at the snow-line they found people living in a small cabin, and had the honor of being the first ones to bring the news of the Armistice. They came back loaded down with holly and mistletoe, and with such fascinating tales about the peaks which they could see miles away that yesterday I joined a crowd who took an electric train up the sides of the mountain to the village of Chazery. From there we climbed on up toward the summit, but at the snow line, our commanding officer "advised" me on account of my cold not to go farther. Some of us turned back and as we were coming back we could see the tops of the Swiss Alps miles away. They were covered with snow and the sun gave them a pink tinge. They were beautiful! We got back about five o'clock last night, and I am glad that I went yesterday for some other fellows went today and the train broke down when they were about a fourth of the way up and they coasted all the way back down with the brakes set as tightly as possible.

Night before last the frontier opened and we met some interesting English and Americans here waiting for the first train. There was a journalist from California and some New York people visiting the train and they invited us down to their hotel for the evening. I suppose twenty five or thirty Americans appeared from all parts of the town when they heard us singing American songs. We had a right jolly party while the French set around the sides of the hotel lobby and took in the "show". We sang and danced until about ten, and then we all went down to the train in a bunch.

Tomorrow we expect some more Americans from Germany and there is a whole battery of reporters and movie men here to get "dope" and pictures of these men and of the train. Some of you may see us on the screen. I must stop. Keep well, and have a Merry Christmas.

Love from,

FRED.

MISSES JACKSONVILLE FRIENDS.

John N. Ward in writing to a Jacksonville friend makes reference to the great sorrow in the Ward home at St. Petersburg, Fla. since Mrs. Ward passed to the other world. "Our consolation," the writer said, "is the belief and knowledge that she is now released from a long illness in which she has shown a heroic fortitude." Those who knew Mrs. Ward will appreciate that sentiment for they knew that thru the long period of illness which preceded her going to the home in the south that she ever maintained a cheerfulness of spirit which was an inspiration to her friends. With thoughts of others and with a characteristic self-forgetfulness, Mrs. Ward seemed to forget the limitations and the pain that came with invalidism.

In his letter Mr. Ward said "We do most sincerely miss our dear lifetime friends in Jacksonville while we are here among the strangers. But Mrs. Ward loved and enjoyed the sunshine and milder climate here, so that we feel that her life was prolonged at least a number of months by the change to the south."

SERIOUS MILK FAMINE IN CHICAGO

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The milk famine which began today as the result of the dairymen's league "strike" to enforce a price of $1.01 per hundred pounds, is a serious menace to the public health and if it continues will imperil every family in the city. Health Commissioner Copeland declared today.

Dr. Copeland said that the health department had not been warned of the impending shortage and as a result had been unable today to furnish milk to 11-000 children of the poor, who are dependent on the department milk bureaus. Only 9,000 of the department's daily quota of 20,000 quarts were received, he said.

The shortage also is likely to result in thousands of wounded soldiers in hospitals here going without milk, Copeland added.

Dr. S. Josephine Baker, director of the bureau of child hygiene declared that there are 140,000 children less than one year old in the city and about 1,000,000 children under ten all of whom are likely to suffer if the shortage continues.

WILL BE GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The old story of the defaulting cashier exposed at inventory-taking time at the beginning of a new year, varied in the case of James Grannan, cashier of a local grain brokerage firm and well known in LaSalle street as "Jimmie" as disclosed today. He surrendered to the police and admits he is short $55,000 or $60,000.

Grannan, who started in with the firm as a boy, says he spent the missing money in speculation—but he and is amply lived modestly and the old story of dissipation and women has not been mentioned in connection with "Jimmie's" fall.

And Emmanuel Rosenbaum, head of the firm, has declared he will give "Jimmie" another chance.

"Except for the red guard and its agents, the whole population is in direct need," he said. "Petrograd is face to face with complete starvation. ## CITY TAX RATE IS HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR

Total is $6.92 on Each $100 Valuation—Increase Mainly in School Tax.

The city registered bond tax was received yesterday in the office of County Clerk G. L. Riggs from the auditor's office in Springfield and it was then possible to make up the total tax rate. The rate this year is $6.92 which is 75 cents on $100 higher than last year. This increase is accounted for to a considerable extent by the fact that the school rate this year is $2.70 by comparison with $1.97 last year. Former county clerk C. A. Boruff is working with Mr. Riggs' office force in getting the books ready for tax extension. It is the intention to begin this work the coming week. The rate for Jacksonville is made up as follows:

Municipal	.....$1.20
State	......75
County	......75
County bond	......04
City bond	......10
Registered bond	......13
Park	......26
Library	......29
Garbage	......20
Water extension	......10
Interest on water bonds	......19
Sinking fund	......15
Public improvement	......30
Schools	......2.70
Total	.....$6.92

The state and county taxes are in each instance fifteen cents less than last year. The water extension and water bond interest taxes are new and the public improvement tax of 30¢ is considerably higher than last year. The rates which prevail thruout the county and in the road districts have not yet been figured out. These vary considerably in the different districts.

NURSING SURVEY WORK PROGRESSES.

Miss Grace Carter, who as executive secretary for Morgan county is making plans for a Red Cross nursing survey, is meeting with the hearty co-operation in the work. Letters have gone out to the officers of the various Red Cross branches in the county, suggesting that committees be named for the survey work in those localities. An advisory committee has been named including Dr. H. C. Woltman, formerly major in the U. S. medical corps, Miss Dorothy Dorsey, superintendent of the Social Service league, and Miss Maude Ryman, chairman of the district nursing service. Mrs. E. E. Crabtree will serve as recorder and the publicity work will be in charge of Miss Ainslie Moore and others. A filing committee is soon to be appointed and the names of those who are to conduct the actual survey work will be announced within a very short time.

As previously indicated, it is the wish of the government that thru the Red Cross a complete record be secured of those persons who are qualified for nursing service of different grades. General Gorgas and his assistants have stated that such a record will be very valuable and desire it especially for the purpose of having an adequate protection in the case of any epidemic at a later time.

WILL HELP ALONG GOOD ROADS PLAN

Morgan County Association Organized Thursday Night at Court House Meeting—Expect to Have a Precinct Organization.

Morgan county has a new good roads organization. It came into being last night at a mass meeting held at the court house, when the Morgan County Good Roads association was formed. These are the officers chosen last night:

President—J. K. Snyder.
Vice president—G. A. Leach.
Secretary—L. B. Potter.
Treasurer—A. B. Williamson.

The officers were named as members of the general executive committee who will prepare constitution and by-laws and submit them at a meeting to be held next Thursday night at the court house. The membership fee was fixed at $1. and it was made very clear that the strength of the organization will be in its numbers. The purpose is to manifest such an interest in good roads that Morgan county will get an early share in the road building work, made possible by the approval at the polls of the $60 bond issue.

Organization Membership

The organization starts out with the following membership, in addition to the officers who have been named: LeRoy Craig, Ira Paterson, H. L. Caldwell, William Batz, J. F. Claus, G. B. Kendall, F. J. Blackburn, H. J. Rodgers, James Ranson, E. H. Ranson, Charles Magill, George Holley, A. C. Rice, H. J. Rice, C. N. Priest, John Snyder, Charles M. Strawn, Vincent Riley, E. F. Johnston, H. E. Kiner, Ervin Stevenson, H. C. Bennett, V. H. Cockin, Henry Strawn, S. T. Erickson, Norman Dewese, Morrison Worthington, Howard Wannamaker, J. W. Walton.

The meeting was called to order by H. K. Snyder and L. B. Potter was chosen secretary. While the business proceeded in a very orderly way there was enough informality to permit of the freest discussion. Various points about the new road law were discussed and some questions were asked which no one in the room could answer. It seemed to be the prevailing opinion that while the law as approved provides for a system of hard road trunk lines thru the various counties of the state, that it was possible by a vote of the people in the various precincts or townships to change the routing. It was stated that the roads to be built will be of brick, concrete or some approved material of the asphalt type. Soils vary so in the different parts of the state that there will naturally be different materials used in order to secure the best results.

Heavy Traffic Routes of Brick

H. L. Caldwell in brief remarks stated it was his understanding, based on a conversation with a member of the state highway commission, that on the heavy traffic routes, like that between Chicago and St. Louis, that brick will be the paving material. Mr. Caldwell indicated that the survey work, locating the roads and getting the necessary grade data in all the counties of the state will require at least a two year period, but he said that road construction would begin before all this engineering data had been gathered.

Since practically all the money available for good roads in this county has been used for grading and oiling the state highway department probably has the feeling that the people in this county do not favor hard roads and therefore unless some special effort is made to correct this impression hard road work in the county it not likely to be done early.

W. H. Cockin talked along the same line and it was the sentiment of those present that one of the early endeavors of the new association would be to let the state highway commission know that the people here voted in favor of the hard road bond issue and that they want hard roads.

L. R. Craig said it was his understanding that the state plan provided about 84 miles of hard roads in this county. He said that the Ocean to Ocean highway and the Burlington Way offered various advantages for road work which would make their early improvement feasible.

There was some general discussion of the method to be followed in securing members but no plan was finally settled upon. The work will probably be taken up by school districts as in various war work campaigns the method was found very effective.

"With the Colors"

Letters of Interest from Morgan County Boys in the Country's Service.

From Elmer Fernandes.

Elmer Fernandes, Butchery Co., 343, A. E. F., writes his father, A. D. Fernandes, the following letter:

November 28, 1918

My Dear Mother and Father:— Well folks, I am going to write you another letter, for I just got my first mail from U. S. A. I am with my company now and I will be able to get mail. Mother I never have missed one week writing you a letter so don't worry about me, I am happy and have sure enjoyed this trip. If I could only tell you my experience in the army. I am proud I was one of the number in this great war. How would I feel when the boys get back and tell about their experiences? Now I am one of them. And if the Lord see fit, I will come home some day and tell you.

Mother, Essie said that cousin Johnnie was sick. Go see him and tell him that I sent my best regards and that I hope to see him some day, even if I am so far away from all my loved ones. Mother, tell Aunt Bell I prayed that we would not need Johnnie over here; for no one in the U. S. A. knows I thank the Lord that I am still able to write you. We never lost a man out of our company. Only there are 50 sick; two or three of them were going back to the U. S. A. when I came back Nov. 26.

The boys were sure glad to see me. They said that they had just been talking about me the day I arrived. Ha! Ha! They thought I had gone west. Ha! Ha! Not for me, for I am coming back to the U. S. A. some time. But no one knows when. But God will help me to come back to you all.

Mother, I got a letter from Dora. Oh, she is such a happy girl to think she is such a worker. How is papa and the rest? Is Dottie fat yet and her colt? Well Mother, I will close for it will soon be time for a good turkey dinner. For you know what this day is, Nov. 28.

From your soldier son in France—Good-bye dear folks and God bless you all

From Ordrain P. Fox.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Fox have received the following interesting letters from their son Ordrain Fox:

November 20, 1918.

Dear Mama and Papa:— A little card to wish you both a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. We are still having mild weather and are enjoying some comforts like we used to have in the states. I had a fine warm bath today and drew some new clothes which were very timely, as the cooties were nearly in charge of my barracks. I see the papers today say that they are going to discharge the boys in the states right away. That sure sounds good but I hope they will not forget us and leave us up to the last. But you can never tell. The paper also said the wounded, etc., would be sent right over so I guess Mark will soon be home. Well our troops are on the Rhine now and getting along fine. I rather think we may move again soon so I thought I had better write now so you would get a letter on or near Christmas time. We are seeing a great many returned prisoners lately from Germany. We are stationed in a town and the refugees are returning back through here to their homes. Our troops are feeding a great many of these people and are helping them along. I was in the main town the other day in which the prisoners were coming through and getting a train to the rear. Well our division is now in the Third army and its hard telling what's coming next as we are changed around so much. We are out of candles so we use our heads and making a light out of some grease and a rag. Oh yes, tonight was a Fourth of July for us as we have a big dump of colored flares here that belonged to the Germans. They sure make some beautiful lights and we kept the air full of all colored lights for several hours. It was some sight. I suppose all the drafted men will get out first and get all the good jobs and they will be telling their tales and that will not even make a dent compared with our boys and what they have gone through with in the First army over here, that has gone through all the fighting and is now on the way to Germany. I hope this note finds you folks well and everything going along fine. You want to keep your eyes open for me as I may drop in any time now without in the next six months unless they start this thing over again and I don't hardly believe they will. This leaves me feeling fine. With best wishes, I am, your loving son, Ordrain P. Fox.

P. S. I am sending in a separate envelope the citation given each of my company in honor of our great service to our country. Keep it for me.

November 24, 1918.

Dear Papa and Mama:— This is supposed to be Father's Day and we can write a great many things now that we could not write before. In the past I am getting along fine and am well. Now for a little history in brief form. We sailed from New York March 16, 1918, on the good ship "Orduna," and sailed for fourteen days, landing in Liverpool, England. From there we went to Winchester, England, for a week. After that we went to Southampton from which we sailed across the channel to La Havre, France. After a couple of days we left by train for Montis Le Roi, where we stayed for about two months. We worked here putting up barracks, barns and a base hospital which is sure fitting along fine. We went from here to Le Tholy above the resort of Gerardines where we stayed drilling and going out at night on duty to cut wires for a couple of weeks. From here we went to the St. Die sector. Camped in the pine forest at Nymont for six weeks. We put in trenching, etc., also. Left Nymont for Remiremont which was a several day's hike. From here by truck to Villacourt. Here about a week drilling etc. Then on big forced march for six days and nights in rain, slush and mud to St. Jean, arriving early in the morning. Went over the top beside the tanks in what is known as the St. Mihiel drive where we stayed for a week capturing lots of prisoners and taking plenty of ground. From here by truck to the big front of Mulse Argonne woods on the great Verdun sector. We went after and took the town of Mount Faucon, where the crown prince saw seven waves go down in defeat on Dead Man's hill. This hill is sure a battle-scarred piece of land. There is not a level foot of ground anywhere in sight here. There sure was some war fighting in this section, believe me. And through it all we did our share. Doing everything from holding the front line to putting wire and fixing shell holes in the roads.

We then had a few days' rest in Essen after which we came back up and prepared for the drive that gave us fame, and put the Germans out of commission, breaking their strong point at the only place where we were not across the river. My company went up and put a bridge across the Meuse river and Canal de Elst under heavy shell and machine gun fire and in no man's land at that. We also put three regiments of infantry across in boats as this work was being done. This was at Bruilles-sur-Meuse. One of the other of our companies put one up at Dun-Sur-Meuse. You no doubt read about this in the papers as they were full of it over here. We did not stop here, but drove those Dutch on for about twelve miles without stopping and were still driving them when the armistice was signed and went into effect at 11 o'clock on November 11, 1918. We were in Brandoirville at this time. Since then we have done nothing but garrison duty, a little drilling, cleaning up, etc. We are now in the small village of Fountain, but expect to go to Germany any time as you know our division is one of the occupation troops.

This is just a short brief outline history of where I have been but of course I have told you really nothing of what happened or what we did. I rather think we will soon be back home now. At least I am in the hopes we will get back by spring, anyway. We are comfortably located now in some buildings. It is now Sunday morning and a fine day. The lights went out last night so I had to stop. As usual we move today. We nearly always move on Sunday or Friday. The next time you hear from me I may be in Germany, in fact, I think I will. The worst part of going there is carrying the packs which are mighty heavy and cumbersome. I would like to have written you a nice long letter with lots of news but I will not have the time. This, however, will give some idea of where I have been and a little of what I have done. Did I tell you we have a fine new leather jerkin or vest? They are wool lined and are great in cold weather. I must close, and get a bite to eat before we leave.

Your loving son,

November 28, 1918.
Well after a few days of hiking and an honest ride in an American car behind an old U. S. engine. It was sure great although it was only a short distance. We are now two and a half miles from Luxembourg frontier, and about the same from Belgium. The town we are in is a pretty good sized place and has quite a number of factories, street cars, etc., but they are not running now. There are plenty of people here and the stores are running right along. It is a railroad center. Longway is the name. We were in Longway yesterday and it is quite a railroad town too.

It is raining a little now. Tomorrow is Thanksgiving and we all have something to be thankful for now, sure. I certainly have so far. You would sure be surprised to see what you can get here and the Germans have occupied the place for four years. Last evening I had a four course supper at one of the local hotels, of soup, roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy, rice pudding, good bread, coffee with sugar. A troop of our infantry are in Luxembourg and they are reporting fine treatment and plenty of everything to eat.

I suppose we will spend Christmas in Germany or on the Rhine. We are quartered now in a nice big building and even have electric lights which is rather a shock to our nervous system. Nearly all the people here talk German and German money is in circulation without depreciation in value. They value one mark at 25c. I expect to try to go into Belgium before coming home and I sure hope it will be soon. If I tried to tell you everything it would take a couple of books. I rather think the censorship rules will not be quite as strict now as in the past. I will write again before long. I wish you and Mama a Merry Christmas and happy New Year. Tell all my friends who have written to me that I appreciated their letters very much, but for some months past I have not had any paper or a minute's time. One just had to sleep every spare moment to be able to get by.

From Private Ernest E. Dyer
Mrs. J. A. Dyer is just in receipt of the following letter from her son, Private Ernest E. Dyer, who is with the U. S. forces in France:
Blois, France,
Dec. 1st, 1918.

My Dear Mother:— Here I am once more and I guess you think it is about time I was writing too, but you will have to excuse me this time. Mother, for I haven't had much of a chance to write. But this letter ought to relieve your mind for the war is all over here. Gee, doesn't that sound good? I suppose the people around home are glad as well as us Doughboys over here.

I have seen some tough times now and then but I should worry now. It makes me feel good to think I have helped to win this great wicked war. Of course I haven't done as much as some of the boys but I sure did my best whenever I was called on and that is all a mule can do, ha ha. For the last six weeks I have been on the go, being transferred from one place to another. I was in the base hospital a little while, then they transferred me to this town. We have a large camp and there are a lot of soldiers here. We have all kinds of cripples here but they are all happy to think they are going home.

I have gotten by pretty lucky so far. Was never wounded but just bruised a little, and got hit one with a piece of shell. It didn't hurt me very much, though. I don't know just when I will get to come home. It may be soon and it may be a long time, but please don't worry, mother, for I am all O. K. I do wish I could get some mail from you and Ruth. I suppose she is in Kansas. It has been a long time since I have heard from her and I know she will be anxious to see me once more and I know I will be too. Well, mother, I must close and go to bed. Give my best regards

Indigestion, Gas, Bloat, Heartburn, Caused by Acid-Stomach

What is the cause of indigestion, dyspepsia, bloat, heartburn, food-repeating, gas, sour stomach and all the stomach miseries that bring so much distress? Just this—acid-stomach—superacidity as the doctors call it. It robs millions of their full strength, vitality and the power to enjoy life—to be real men and women.

Scientists have proved this but you do not need to take their word; you can prove it in your own stomach, by getting rid of the excess acid and finding out how much better you will feel. Let your own stomach be the judge. It will tell you the truth. Decide then according to your own feelings, if acid-stomach is not directly responsible for a long train of ailments that in time become so serious that they baffle the best medical skill.

It is well known that an acid mouth destroys the teeth. The acid mouth can be detected only by a chemical analysis, and still it is so powerful that it eats right through the hard enamel and causes the teeth to decay. This certainly is fair warning of what excess acidity will do to the delicate organization of the stomach; as a matter of fact, excess acidity not only produces at the start a great many painful and disagreeable symptoms that we generally name "stomach troubles," but it is the creator of a long train of very serious ailments. Acid stomach interferes with the digestion and causes the food to ferment, the stomach gets sour and creates gas, and then this mass of sour, fermented food charged with excess acid, passes into the intestines, where it becomes the breeding place for all kinds of germs and toxic poisons, which in turn, are absorbed into the blood stream, and in this way distributed throughout the entire body.

Of course, these poisons naturally attack the weakest points and cause the most trouble where they find the least resistance. The bad effects of acid-stomach do not show up at once, but you can see the beginning wherever you go in so many people who, while not actually down sick, are always ailing—have no appetite, food doesn't digest, belching all the time, continually complaining of being weak and tired and worn out. It is this acid poison in the system that takes the Pep and Punch out of them, makes life a hardship, leaving little or no vitality to enjoy the real pleasures of life.

The simple thing, the humanly sensible thing, is to strike right at the very cause of all this trouble and clean this excess acid out of the stomach. This will give the stomach a chance to digest the food properly; that is all you need; nature will do the rest.

There is a quick, easy way to bring this about—a wonderful new discovery makes it possible to remove excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is called EATONIC, made in the form of tablets—they are good to eat—just like a bit of candy. Their action in the stomach is a good deal like a piece of blotting paper taking up a drop of ink—they literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines. They also drive the bloat out of the body—in fact you can fairly feel them work.

Try EATONIC and see how quickly it banishes the immediate effects of acid-stomach—bloat, heartburn, belching food-repeating, indigestion, etc. See too, how quickly your general health improves—how much more relish you take in eating—how much more easily your food is digested—how soundly you sleep—how nervousness and irritability disappear.

It is so easy to get this help—and it costs so little. So why suffer another hour when sure, quick relief is at hand? Everywhere people who have used EATONIC testify to its power to bring quick relief. The testimonials of some of these people are so enthusiastic and tell of such remarkable results as to be almost unbelievable.

If you are one of those who have "tried everything," but in spite of it are still lacking in physical strength and vigor, begin at once to take EATONIC. Don't put it off. Get back your physical and mental punch. Have the power and energy to work with vim. Enjoy the good things of life. Learn what it means to fairly bubble over with health. Like thousands of others, you will say a wonderful change for the better could be brought about so quickly.

So get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist today. We authorize him to guarantee EATONIC to please you and you can trust your druggist to make this guarantee good. If it fails in any way, take it back—he will refund your money. If your druggist does not keep EATONIC write to us and we will send you a big 50c box. You can send us the 50c after you receive it. Address H. L. Kraemer, President, Eatonic Remedy Company, Cor. Wabash Ave and 11th St., Chicago, Ill.

I got "beaucoup", writing material and being the censorship is not so strict. I might be able to write an intelligent letter.

If you have a French map and find Lee Mons you may be interested to know what I am doing here, so here goes to try and explain. The marines, as you know have been on many fronts, and the last one we were on, myself included, was the Argonne forest.
The general in command of our division gave us a speech before we went over telling us what depended upon the drive, and we knew it was a big thing, because they kept us lying in a woods a few miles behind the line for five days before the time came to move in position. No time in the past did we ever wait that long, and say Bud those were trying days, beautiful weather for observation and old Fritz's planes were over our lines continuously taking pictures and then we knew we had to dig in because we knew it would be but a few hours until he would be shelling hell out of us and that night and every other one he shelled like hell. On the evening of Oct. 30, we got orders to move at dark and that night our division filed up between our batteries and Jerry's and just as we were entering another woods his artillery opened upon a little blown up village on our right about five hundred yards and we got a good many of those shells, but as luck would have it we found an old trench in the woods which gave us good cover. We lived there all night and next day, scarcely able to move. That night we went up in position for the attack. After we were put in the formation, our platoon being in the first wave, my Buddy and I dug out an old shell hole for protection while the barrage was going on. At 2:30 our barrage opened up and say Bud it was the worst I ever heard, sounding like hell tore loose sure. Each battery put over one thousand shells and our officer said it cost a million dollars, but it was worth it, for at day break when we started over, the only resistance we had was in his front line where we had a little machine gunning and as soon as we heard the bullets our platoon lay low and the companies on our right and left outflanked them. We lost a few men, in fact our whole platoon got lost and shot up. Our platoon commander got wounded and our gunnery sergeant took command. This same sergeant came over with me a year ago last August. My Buddy whose name is Matson, also came over with me and we have always been together. We were in the same squad, he was a gunner on the other so that they threw him on the right flank. My first leader got killed in the same shell hole with me while we were laying low and the second leader picks up his "am". And the order comes to move on. We go a few hundred yards and a piece of shell hits him in the leg. By this time we were lost from our company and the second battalion who were in reserve, for the first came up and myself and several others attached ourselves to the 45th, and at noon finds the 49th. My Buddy came running up and said he was sure glad to see me. He told me he was certain he passed me dead. Our battalion gained their objective and the second battalion took up the attack and we followed along in reserve for the third who were in reserve for the second. Everything went well until late in the afternoon when one of our gun shells fell short and I got a flesh wound in the leg.

The captain sent me back to the first aid station to get it dressed and also help carry back some of our wounded. On the way back I got gassed and am now out of the hospital waiting for a ride across the big drink. I must close and before I do so I want to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

I found some more stationery and will finish. One of the fellows who left the company after I did told me Matson is still fine and I guess he is in Germany now because our division is one of those of occupation.
I guess you think this is a lot of bull. I can tell many more

FARM PROPERTY

Now folks, listen. Story's Exchange says our land in this section is too cheap, compared with land selling north and east of us. Our land is too cheap as compared with prices of what it produces—corn, wheat, cattle and hogs, to say nothing of dairy and poultry products.
Now are we right?—October 1st, next, reflect back to this "ad" and you will know whether this is true or not. How do we know now?
because people are selling farm products and putting the money in land. Again the boys are either home or will soon be here and they want to settle close to Dad and Mam wants them close to her. We have their orders now and find them difficult to fill. There is really quite a little scramble for farms for March first delivery. Now get busy.

(A) 160 acres, three miles from a good town on the C. & A., a good well improved combination stock and crop farm for $125.00 per acre.

(B) An excellent black prairie farm of eighty acres three miles from town with excellent improvements and a beautiful home. Price $300 per acre.

(C) One hundred sixty acres near the city mostly good farming land with plenty of improvements and thoroughly well fenced at $225.00 per acre.

(D) One hundred ten acres of land east of the city, two miles from elevator at $185.00 per acre.

(E) Our pet bargain for this week: Forty-six acres one mile from the elevator. This is a nice little home for a man of moderate means. A new six room house with cellar, cistern and concrete walks.
New cow shed, horse barn, corn crib and other out buildings. Price $125.00 per acre. Now hurry.

We have money to lend in large ranging from Five Hundred Dollars up and aggregating about One Hundred Thousand Dollars. DO NOT WAIT ANOTHER DAY to make safe your loan for March first, DO IT NOW!

Private John Daniel, with the American forces in France:

A. P. O., France.

November 21, 1918.

Dear Brother and All:-

As I haven't heard from you for a good while I will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am getting along fine and dandy and hope you are the same. How do you like your home by now? I think I will be back home to work for you next summer. So you must save me a job.

I am up on the front now;
have been up here for a few weeks. I would have written sooner but when the shells and shrapnel were bursting around me I didn't think much about writing. All I was thinking about was wondering where the next one was going to burst. I had the dirt all over me two or three times but now the fighting has stopped I feel much safer.

I spent my birthday up here and I want to tell you I never spent a birthday like that one before. The shells were dropping all around me and it was raining like hell—(excuse me for swearing but I have gotten so used to it that it comes natural to me).
I think I will be back for Easter so you must have plenty of eggs. How are you making it with your new car? You want to have plenty of gas on hand for I want to have a nice joy ride. You remember last Thanksgiving we went out hunting when it was so wet. I guess I won't be there this Thanksgiving to go out with you.
So you must get enough game for us both.

Well Jim, I guess as I don't know much to write. I will close for this time, hoping to hear from you soon.

So, good bye from,
Your loving brother,
John Daniel.
American E. Forces,
Somewhere in France.

Revised Prices

The assurance of material for quantity

our present dealers' selling agreements.

Three Passenger Open Model H-Six-44	$1495

F. O. B. Factory

Let me begin these remarks with the statement that the purchaser of a Buick car between now and the end of the 1919 season is not running any chance that the price will be subject to further change during that period.

I have just received a letter from the Home Office, containing the revised price schedule effective January first, 1919, covering the various Buick models during the remainder of the season. Four models have been reduced in price and the other two remain untouched.

There has been considerable speculation as to what the Buick Motor Company was going to do about the prices of their cars, as the close of the war left things in such an uncertain condition regarding the price and quantities of raw material available that a good many people felt it would be impossible for the really big manufacturers to find their bearings for some time to come.

This prompt action on the part of the Company shows that they have been able to clear the situation up sooner than anybody expected, and I for one am delighted with the announcement so early in the season.

Their war orders which have been demanding the major part of their energies have been completed and the announcement of the present prices is evidence that the Buick Company now has a measure of the situation and sufficient material is in sight that will permit laying out a definite building schedule which again proves the buyer of a Buick automobile is at all times protected against unwarranted price changes.

Orders for Buick cars are piling up on us fast and I feel reasonably sure that we shall be able to take care of the greater part of them within a reasonable time. We shall continue to follow our old policy of filling orders, and will make every effort to see that no favoritism is shown our waiting list which plan has worked out so admirably in the past.

Buick enthusiasts appreciate the importance of this announcement, because all uncertainty has now been removed, both as to the possibility of getting Buick cars this year and the possibility of the prices being raised or lowered.

From Private John Daniel.
James Daniel has received the following letter from his brother,

"THE LOST CORD (WOOD)"

Fables from the diary of a Kitchen Police in The Stars and Stripes.)

"Seated one day at the 'organ' I was weary and ill at ease; I was grinding up hash for supper.

With the 'organ' between my knees.

"I do not know what I was grinding.

Or what I was dreaming then; But I struck what seemed to be the remains

Of a lately lamented hen.

"Great Heaven! I cried, 'Tis a chicken."

With my hand on my fevered head.

"We ordered the leg of a steer for hash,

And they sent us a Leghorn instead."

"Alas for the dear old 'organ,'

They broke it apart with a pick

The mess sergeant stood with a tear in his eye

As they hauled out a piece of stick.

"Found at last! and he clasped to his bosom

The lost cord of maple and ash.

"Some son of a gun put the camp on the bum

When he put all my wood in the hash."
